Autumn Planting

EXPERIENCED planters practically all agree that Early Autumn is the best season of the year for planting Evergreens, Hardy Herbaceous plants, Strawberries (pots), etc., also all kinds of Hardy Shrubs and Trees, Roses, Berry Plants, etc. There are but few exceptions to this rule. Planting at this season provides ample time for the roots to re-establish themselves while the ground is still warm. Early Autumn planted stock starts out with a vigor which spring planted stock seldom attains. Let us send you our Catalog, or better visit our Nursery and select your stock personally and in ample time to take advantage of the Early Autumn planting season.

Evergreens

Our stock of Evergreens is not only extensive, but contains rare varieties and beautiful specimens, many of large sizes for immediate effects. We recommend transplanting Evergreens with balls of earth in most instances. If planted with reasonable care, practically no loss will occur if our stock is used, as it is frequently root pruned in the nursery and otherwise kept in perfect condition for transplanting.

Prices of Evergreens. We know that our prices compare favorably with other's prices for stock equally as good. You can purchase of us the small sizes and easily grown varieties for a few cents each and up, while some of our old and rare specimens are worth much more. In other words, we are prepared to supply the cheap popular kinds of Evergreens for window boxes, hedges and group plantings, also the rare ones. A visit to our Nursery is advised where practical, otherwise we can make careful selections for you. Our Catalog gives sizes and prices.

Deciduous Trees and Shrubs

We grow in immense quantities all the desirable varieties of Shade and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Vines, Roses, etc., for street and park planting, and the creating of permanent Landscape effects, also Fruit Trees, Berry Plants, etc. The same care is given this stock that makes our Evergreens so favorably known.

Hardy Herbaceous Plants

The experienced garden lover soon learns to depend largely on the Hardy garden flowers. They not only have their own personal charm, but continue, many of them for years without replacing, furnishing ever welcome flowers from the very earliest Snowdrops, continuously throughout the season, ending with the Chrysanthemums when the snow often hangs heavy on their branches. The Paeonia, Phlox, Larkspur, Campanula, Hollyhock, Columbine, Lily, etc., belongs to this class. Our assortment is complete, and the stock we offer is strong field-grown or in pots from out-of-doors frames, so that immediate results can be expected. Early Autumn planted plants of this class bloom with a luxuriant profusion the following season, superior in every way to spring plantings. Our Catalog lists a splendid assortment and at popular prices.

Roses

The permanent hardy garden kinds. Strong field grown hardy Roses planted in the Early Autumn not only live, but will bloom with fully twice the freedom the following spring as compared with spring planted roses. Prepare the Rose garden right away, and get the Roses planted early. Consult our catalog for varieties and popular prices.

Strawberries (Pot Grown)

To be assured of a full crop of Strawberries the following season is enough to warrant planting potted plants at this season. The plants are but $3.50 per 100, $30.00 per 1,000, in ten of the leading kinds. Inquire for list. Also Americus (everbearing) at 75 cents per 10; $6.00 per 100.

Landscape Department

The practical and artistic character of our Landscape work and the service we render through this department is being more appreciated each succeeding season. Very few who desire to create beautiful landscape surroundings to their homes, or develop other Landscape problems, either large or small, have had the necessary experience to plan out the work to the best advantage. Many years of practical experience with the principals of Landscape work, familiarity with soils and climatic conditions, special plants for special places and exposures, render our advice and services of greatest value to those seeking information.

Cost of Our Landscape Service

We are always glad to offer suggestions and make office sketch plans, etc., without charge, and otherwise render assistance. When we arrange to make special visits, work up plans, reports and specifications requiring time and attention, special study of individual problems, etc., we make a charge consistent with the services rendered. We will gladly take up this more in detail with anyone interested by special appointment or correspondence.

WE are developing a model nursery on a large scale at Woodmont, Conn, continuous with the Railroad Station. It will be, however, at least three years before our offices and sale Nurseries will be moved from our present location.
